Handwriting and the Post

I for one am not ready to give up the art of Handwriting, especially in the use of the post along with the purchase of stamps that celebrate and commemorate events and notable people.

With the post, letters become the stuff of history. The implements involved - paper, pen, ink, typewriters or keyboards, typewriting modes or keyboard font - sets the document in time, place and mood.

Author Nicols Fox recently wrote an op-ed in The New York Times extolling the virtues of letter writing in inspiring memory and aiding historians in their quest to know the past. As he elegantly writes, "this is a time not to avoid hand written post, but to fill it with our thoughts and fears and dreams, transmitting to our friends and families on real paper, with real ink, that will endure the ravages of time and tell the future that we could not be bowed."

Correspondence is an intimate form of communication. It allows us to express ourselves not only by what we say but how we choose to say it. The card, paper, writing tool and embellishments all say something about our personalities.

While it is always preferable to hand-write a condolence card, a thank-you or a note simply expressing thoughtfulness, a long, detailed letter may be typed or computer printed, especially if one's hand-writing tends to degenerate after a page or two.

I have to admit, I have been collecting pretty handmade papers made from all sorts of materials - rice, rags, fibers and dried plants - and wonderful writing instruments that include some vintage fountain pens that I keep in a special place. I treasure them and when I get the odd moment to sit down and write a friend, they make it a bit more ceremonial.

This should have been hand written.

"BREVITY OF LIFE"

1999

Dear Cousin Chester and Daws,

We think of you often, not only at Christmas.
We used to think time flew, but the older we get, the more it seems to race! The year has gone so fast, and it seems all we can do is try to keep up.

If you get over this way, we hope you will stop in.

Happy holidays to you and yours,
Sincerely, Christine

Graphology

Those who specialize in graphology, the practice of handwriting analysis, believe your penmanship harbors more than the power of self-expression; they believe it is a virtual printout of your psyche.

According to Lowe's book, Aristotle was the first to link handwriting and individual character in 330 B.C. when he wrote, "Handwriting is the invisible form of speech."

Nichon, who coined the French term "graphologie," believed the brain, and not the hand, controlled handwriting. He broke handwriting down into a series of strokes, assigning a personality trait to each stroke.

HENRY FRYER FAMILY

Henry Fryer, son of Edward and Catherine (Haines) Fryer, was born in Pennsylvania in 1818. By 1850 Henry and his wife, Sarah Louisa (Smith) and family had settled one mile south of Avilla. The journey from Pennsylvania began in Union County where they traveled by wagon to Pittsburg, then by boat to Cincinnati, by canal boat to Toledo and on to Fort Wayne where friends lived. They tried to persuade Henry Fryer to settle, but he chose to move to Avilla where his uncle, Samuel Haines, resided.

Rosa always wore pantaloons, ironed to perfection never a wrinkle. She added to them rows upon rows of hand hemstitching, plus hand crocheted lace. She was always busy quilting.

In late life, Bill was a large man, as well, a member of the Old Fellow's Lodge. He had a stroke 12 years before his death which left him half crippled. His choice treat just was a bowl of his pork lettuce & rice. He stocked bread & butter.

Mary McElwee is my name
Come as my station
I'll marry who I please,
In spite of my relations.

Remember me and fare me round
A true friend is hard to find
And when you find one think
It's good and true don't trade
The old one for the new

Song All Alone

Inscribed on the rear cover

1 They say you have another
~~you have broken your heart now~~
And now since we are parted
I am very lonely now
(Chorus)

All alone all alone little darling
All alone all alone little bird,
How wild are the riverside ~~you have spoken~~
Sweet the song I have heard.

2 The snow is fast a falling,
And soundly the winds did roar,
My heart is sad and lanky
And in my room I listen,
For one sweet word from you.
The song bird sings so sweetly
As in those days gone by,
The blossoms bloom so sweetly
As when far you and I.

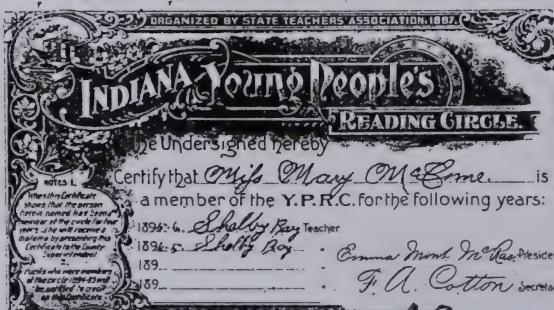

3 They say you have another,
And may you east aright,
I trust that in my ramble,
Another far friend will provide,
So fare again well my darling,
It's may I bid you adieu,
And I hope some wild west I
May sometime will be worthy of
Your ramble.

Someone happy as can be

Would you really like to see?
Well then, take a look at me
I'm the boy you want to see.

Friendship

Money won't buy it.
It's never for sale
One is bankrupt without it
End with it can't fail
It grows as it ages
And you will agree
That friendship is priceless
To both you and me.

Aunt. Viola

Prayer Answered

I asked for strength that I might achieve;
I was made me weak that I might obey.
I asked for health that I might do greater things;
I was given grace that I might do better things.
I asked for riches that I might be happy;
I was given poverty that I might be wise.
I asked for power that I might have the praise of men;
I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God.
I asked for all things that I might enjoy life;
I was given life that I might enjoy all things.
I received nothing that I asked for, all that I hoped for.
My prayer was answered. 59

My School days Treasure Charles Haines

I have a little treasure—
That brings me lot of joy.
It's just a little book I
Have had since just a boy.
The pages once were faded
And the writings not so plain;
But the memories it brings to me
Will long with me remain.

CHARLES ELMER HAINES Author

—The Author

There are many verses in this book
That say: "Remember me,"
And as I read them o'er and o'er
I think, I'd love to see
The faces of those friends again,
Who wrote those verses there,
Long years ago, when we were free,
With naught but joys to share.

And then again within this book:
As I go leafing on,
I find a verse, 'twas written by
A friend that since has gone.
But I still can well remember,
The friendly voice and smiling face
Of the friend who gladly wrote it;
Thinking it would fill the space

Give Luminously, Live Abundantly!

The more you give,
the more you get -
The more you laugh
the less you fret -
The more you do Unselfishly;
The more you live Abundantly --
The more of everything you share,
The more you'll always have to spare --
The more you love, the more you'll find
That life is good and friends are kind --
For only what we give away
Enriches us from day to day.

To-day

With every rising of the sun
Think of your life as just begin
The past has buried and concealed deep
All yesterday -- then let them sleep.
Concern yourself with but to-day,
Grasp it and teach it to obey
Your will and plan; since time began
Today has been the friend of man.

You and to-day; a soul sublime
And the great heritage of time,
With God Himself to bind the twain,
Go forth, brave heart, attain, attain.

Friends.

I think that God will never send
A gift so precious as a friend.
A friend who always understands
And fills each need as it demands;
Whose loyalty will stand the test.
When skies are bright or overcast,
Who sees the faults that merit blame,
But keeps on loving just the same;
Who does far more than friends could do
To make us good, to make us true
Earth's gifts a sweet enjoyment lend.
But only God can give a friend.

Grandma,

I'm sorry I didn't make it to Berne on Sunday.
The truth is I was down with the Flu all day.
I even went to the Doctor on Monday. That was the first time I've been to the Doctor since 1989. Hope you had a great Birthday.

Grandma, I just wanted to let you know that I smile when I think of all the times you, kay? I played Jack Jumped over the camellia stick. The walks to the Ice cream store for comes & such. You take care & make sure you get into some mischief everyone in a while.

Dear brother Man I'll try to write
A bit to you this wintry night
And all these lines you love to scan
I'll try sometime to write again.

2.

I'd like to tell you all the news
And if my scribbling you'll excuse
I'll try and tell you all I can
And make you think you're home again.

3.

Jim Myers you know the first to go
From here to help whip Mexico
Came home on Christmas day to spend
A little time with dad and mam.

4.

But Elmer Dear poor little boy
Whose heart was always full of joy
At old camp Sheridan had to stay
And didn't get home on Xmas day,

5.

Yes Charlie Gibbons he was here
His friends they gathered far and near
And gave him a party and a dance
For him before he leaves for France.

6.

I never like to give Advice
I know it isn't always nice
But one request I'll make of you
And hope that you can see it through

7.

if while you're over there in France
Old Kaiser Gott you chance to see just plant some bullets in his pants
And plant an extra one for me.

8.

Over here we think the Dutch are hell
Their murderous tricks not fit to tell
And if you get them on the run
Shoot down the last Dutch son of a gun.

9.

When you were here they called you man
I reckon there they call you dam
So for the Dutch don't give a dam
But slay the Dutch don't span a man.

10.

Just show the Dutch your Yankee grit
Whip them till they are glad to quit.
Pour into them the Yankee stuff
Till they are glad to say enough.

11.

And when at last you've won the fight,
And shown the Dutch that right is might,
Then old Bill's partnership will do it,
The Dutch will plainly see it not.

12.

And when at last the world's at peace
And all the Dutch is left is grease
The Sammies they'll be called again
The floggers of the Ditcherman.
